An Unforgettable First Impression. The natural beauty of stone is guaranteed to catch even the most artistic eye. Lightweight Stone-Veneer® panels will create a lasting memory by highlighting the timeless beauty of nature and displaying it as a work of art.

Stone-Veneer® is made of thin layers of real stone and then strengthened by a glass fiber reinforced back. The use of natural stone in the interior architecture industry is no longer limited as these panels are light, thin and flexible. Stone-Veneer® panels can be installed by simply attaching to an existing surface. No additional reinforcement necessary.

Explore the Possibilities. Five unique standard faces to choose from with particle core, fire-rated particle core and MDF as core construction options. Green and fire-rated substrate are available and Stone-Veneer® will also contribute to LEED qualifications.

The uniqueness of this paneling makes it a creative tool for designers as no two pieces of stone are the same. This opens the doors for endless applications to include wall coverings, elevators, reception areas, accent border on tabletops and much more. We encourage you to invite the outdoors in.
